

Joseph Swope has tried his hand at quite a few professions. Sadly, the short haired people with badges at the Department of Justice have eliminated many of those options. Currently, when not involved in writing, Joseph Swope makes his living by writing short biographies for websites.

Due to the abnormally high number of states whose names end in a vowel, Mr. Swope has been forced to reside in Maryland.